THE OVAL IS THE FOCAL POINT OF CAMPUS

Main Hall, located at the head of the Oval, currently houses administrative offices and the Geography department.

The Math-Physics building, originally a dormitory, is now the home of the University's Linear Accelerator. The "atom-smasher" was given to MSU by the Atomic Energy Commission.

IN ANY SEASON, IN ANY WEATHER,
THE CAMPUS HAS A SPECIAL BEAUTY.

THE YEAR IN RETROSPECT

The school year 1960-61 was a time marked by history. It was the year of the "Great Debates" and long campaign struggle between John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon. In the end, Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, won the Presidency with the smallest popular vote margin ever. In Montana, Donald G. Nutter was elected Governor and promptly rocked the University system with his "budget cuts." The Congo Crisis, Laos, the Kennedy Clan, Berlin, and Astronaut Alan Shepard, USN, were familiar names for millions of Americans.

During 1960-61 WSU continued to grow, as these pictures of the new Health Science building (top) and the new Law School (bottom) show.

ORIENTATION WEEK

Freshmen convened in the Field House to take entrance tests.

The campus patrolman shows Vern Anderson the correct position for the new parking stickers which were issued at registration.

Students measuring their third step from the Chemistry Building Instructional School at the river's edge had two choices. Either walk around the grass by the planetarium, or try the narrow bridge across the river beside the new Health Science Building at Roger Kratus Hall.

Scavenger Jack Griffin and Doug Gorman pose with the stone. Halls Work marker, which was removed to make way for the addition to the Liberal Arts building.

The pressure of studies and finals was too much for some.

WINTER QUARTER

This picture, posed by Kaimosi photographer Jerry Hensinger with the help of Stan Acle and dog, depicts the "lake" that marked the Oval in February.

Students began registration procedure by confering with advisors.

Long lines lined both the Commons and Fellowship rooms as students waited to pay fees and check out.

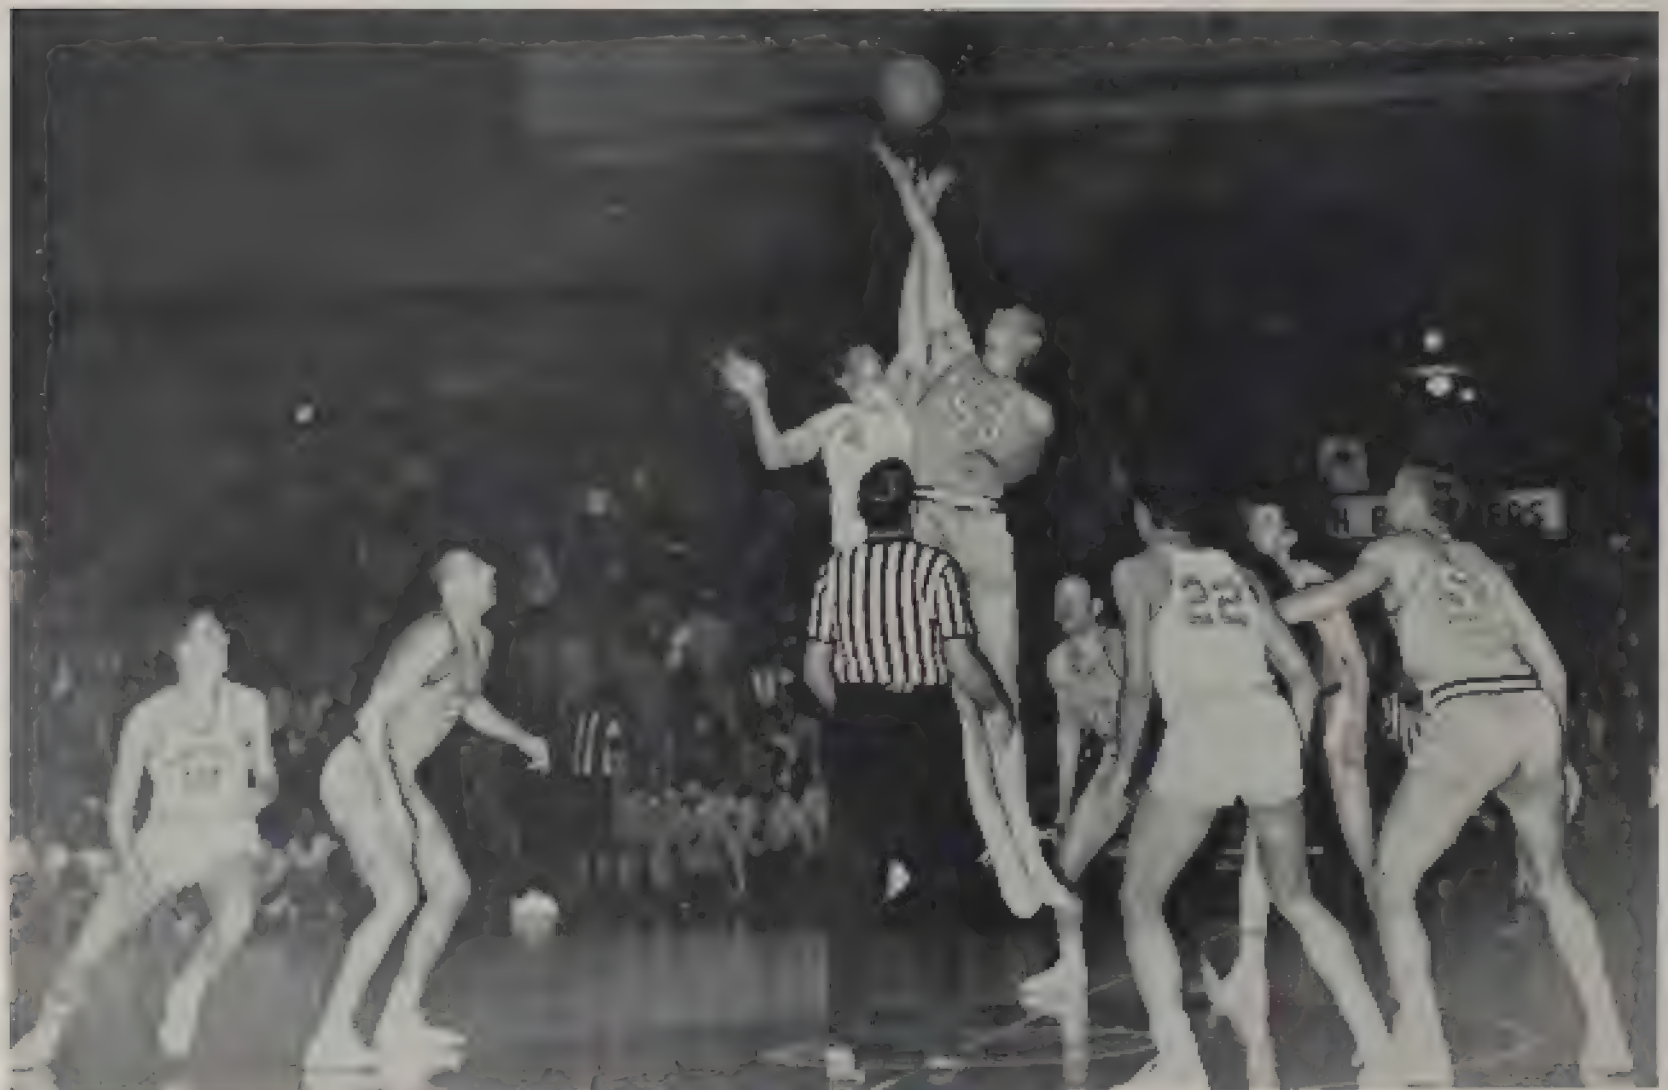

Most students, after struggling through the one-day registration, expressed the hope that procedures would be simplified or two-day registration would be resumed.

ONE-DAY REGISTRATION . . .
AND IT WAS LINES, LINES, LINES.

Pom-pom girls Susie Fizzell and Karen Upsaw boost "school spirit" during a basketball game.

Basketball games were familiar weekend and sometimes week-day entertainment. Here MSU's Steve Lowrey (41) jumps against a University of Wyoming player as teammates Paul E. Miller (10), Kay Roberts (22) and Dan Sullivan stand ready.

SKI WEEKEND

Many students indulged in this favorite winter sport during Ski Weekend, sponsored by the Ski Club.

The Four Freshmen were among the "big-name" entertainment brought to campus by ASMSU.

PARENTS' DAY

Members of Aquanauts entertained with water ballet and synchronized swimming routines.

At the end of the day, parents and students enjoyed a banquet in the Lodge. Entertainment was by the MSU Jubilers.

RESEARCH — AN IMPORTANT PART OF THE PROGRAM OF NEARLY EVERY SCHOOL AND DEPARTMENT ON CAMPUS.

MSU biology professor Dr. Lydia Browner has developed the only strain of "blood" mold in the world. The mold is used for various experimental purposes.

Montana State University Registrar Leo Smith (right) discusses with Jean P. Matter, president of the American College Testing Program, the new research program at ACT under which the group will compute indices predicting the grades a student is likely to make in his freshman year at college. MSU has participated in the ACT program for two years.

How Williams, Dean of the School of Forestry, is shown receiving a $1,000 check from Arthur Will for the Forest and Conservation Research Library in the forestry school. Mr. Will, shown on the right, is the local representative for the Bush Rodbuck Foundation which has given the money to the library.

During summer quarter, students work in the Radiology labs at the Biological Station at Flathead Lake.

The 1950-51 season, held at MSU during the only part of spring season, drew high school students from all parts of the state.

Students and their parents, along with other students, displayed their spring projects at the Northern Science Fair. Dr. Robert E. Hether of the Biology Department headed the Spring Fair Committee for the 1950 year.

For some the beginning of a quarter means new programs, new instructors, and the renewed course to "study hard."

QUARTER

Members of the cast and crew for the Yellow Jacket named Montana during spring vacation. Here Wayne Young, Dick Wells and Douglas Benton are shown in a scene from the play.

The Aquamaid show. Peter Ann, always a favorite on campus, was "field over by request" for an extra performance.

Right: Tiger Lily, played by Kitty Van Vleet, tries to enlist the help of the lost boys, played by Jerry Simmons, Mary Lynn Patterson, Helen Burns, and Gwen McLean.

Jerry Adams

In the election for the ASMSU presidency, it was Adams over Latta by a slim 14 vote margin. Charge of "fraternity politics" and Kamin admitted to support of campus organizations would most comment during the campaign.

John Uvils

Fred Patti Jo Shaw returned to MSU this spring after a year of travel and public appearances as Miss World of America.

Jane Burden, editor of the 1960 Sentinel, proudly displays the book which won first place in yearbook competition in the Rocky Mountain area. The award was announced at the Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate Press Association meeting in Denver, Colorado.

Mrs. Larsson, Angel Flight adviser, congratulates Helen Carlson for selection as Cadet Colonel and Angel Flight commander for the 1961-62 school year.

In view of an early May snow, University classes moved outside for most of spring quarter.

Bed pushing is new collegiate fall, came to MSU as the World University Service committee sponsored a bed pushing contest instead of the usual Chinese auction.

SINGING ON

New Board member, Penny Lucas, talks with parents and friends at the reception which followed the tapping. Parents of girls who were tapped received a special invitation from the graduating members to come to MSU for the ceremony.

AASA President Ralph Wright presents the Policy Award to James Orr Johnson. The award is given to the junior or senior student who has made the most outstanding contribution to MSU.

THE STEPS

Sour president Myra Shultz taps freshman Carol Skidky as a new member of Tauan of Sour, sophomore women's honorary.

Mrs. Albert Stone is honored for her two years of service as Sour adviser as Myra Shultz taps her as an honorary Sour. Newly-tapped Sour: Joan Smith, Carol Wilson, Barbara Young, and Ann Wolfson smile with approval.

Silent Sentinel honored junior men when Dr. Robert Turner tapped them for membership. Here, Dr. Turner congratulates Denis Adams on his selection for membership.

Here, James Everette, director of the Treasure State Band, acts as announcer at the outdoor band concert held during Senior Week.

Friends and families joined members of the graduating class for the annual Senior Banquet.

ACTIVITIES

The procession, led by Academic Vice President Ansell, "swings out" on the way to Commencement exercises in the Field House.

RETIRING FACULTY

E. KIRK BADGLEY

On the occasion of Mr. Badgley's retirement as Controller on June 30, the Board of Regents passed the following resolution:

RESOLVED, that upon the occasion of the retirement of E. Kirk Badgley from Montana State University, the State Board of Education, ex-officio Regents of the University of Montana, expressed its appreciation of the long and faithful service of Mr. Badgley to the University and to the State of Montana. His official connection with the University began as an undergraduate, and he has continued on during his entire adult life rendering most valuable services to the institution. During his many years tenure he has personally participated in the vital financial and fiscal problems which have faced the University, and he has played a most significant role in the progress of the institution. His quiet, friendly, thoughtful manner has been an example for fellow staff members and students alike. During his long tenure he has served faithfully on numerous boards and committees, his presence always being a stabilizing influence upon the business affairs of such groups. Always he has kept uppermost in his mind the welfare of Montana State University, and consequently, he has made a notable and lasting contribution to the institution and through it to the State which it serves."

DEDICATION

EDWARD E. BENNETT

When Mr. Bennett retired from the University on August 18, the Board of Regents passed this resolution: "RESOLVED, that upon the occasion of the retirement of Professor Edward Earl Bennett from the faculty of Montana State University, the State Board of Education, ex-officio Regents of the University of Montana, joins with students, alumni, faculty, and friends across the state and throughout the nation in expressing appreciation of his loyal service to Montana State University. During the thirty-five years of his teaching career at the University, nearly twenty thousand students have enrolled in his courses. He has taught every field of history—ancient, medieval, and modern, European and American—and for many years handled the courses in Montana history and government. His faithful service on university and community committees, his patience in advising students, and his dedication to the profession of teaching, have won him the esteem, the respect, and the admiration of those whose privilege it has been to work with him."

IN RECOGNITION OF THEIR YEARS
OF SERVICE TO MONTANA STATE
UNIVERSITY, THE STAFF IS PRIV-
ILEGED TO DEDICATE THIS 1961
SENTINEL TO MR. E. KIRK BADGLEY
AND DR. EDWARD E. BENNETT.

IN MEMORIAM

NORMAN BRUCE COLLINS

Norman Bruce Collins, 19, Montana, was killed in a car-truck collision on Sunday, May 7, 1961. He was a sophomore at Montana State University.

"All the King's Men"

"All the King's Men," under the direction of Herman H. Brown, toured to Bazeman to perform for the Rocky Mountain Theater Conference from which it received great praise. It is a powerful and timely play about political and personal morality which raises profound questions centering around moral decay of its leading characters, the lust for power, and the age-old problem of good and evil.

Separate Tables

Thomas Rattigan's "Separate Tables" won for Mr. Willy, the director, the award for the best production. "Separate Tables" in reality is two long one-act plays. In "Table By The Window" the problem is given focus by a divorced couple one of whom has loved too much and the other who has loved too little. In "Table Number Seven" the emphasis is directed by the same two actors who assume new roles to play a fearful, mother-dominated sonneteer and a generous but lonely retired army officer. These four characters play out a miniature bit of their lives among others who are also marked by their need for love. Major roles were characterized by David Hunt and Marie McGowan.

Mr. Willy (David Hunt) and Mrs. Brewster (Marie McGowan) as seen in "Table By the Window."

Miss Fallow (David Hunt), Mrs. Rattigan (Eileen Oakley), and her daughter (Marie McGowan) in "Table Number Seven."

Dick Wells (right) directs Marie McGowan in a scene from "Separate Tables."

School for Scandal

"The School for Scandal," Richard Brinsley Sheridan's witty, scandalous play about love and marriage in the 18th Century, was directed by Elmer Gallagher, senior drama major. It is a comedy of manners in a satire on the follies of 18th century fashionable social circles. Eighteenth century costumes for the production were designed by Sarah James. Technical advisors were Allen Coddard, scenery; Tami Solvins, assistant to the director; Sara Grey, props; and Dick Willis, lights.

The Tempest

For the major play for Varsity Quarter 1961, The Masquers presented William Shakespeare's final play, the tragic-comedy THE TEMPEST. This play is filled with song and dance, a sprite and a murderer plus other airy spirits, a magician who rules the elements and plays the role of fate in the lives of all who come to his enchanted island. The total production was given an authentic Elizabethan quality and added delight by the effective and flexible set designed by Richard H. James, Jr., designer and technical director for the Department of Drama; the spectacle was further enhanced by the splendor of the Elizabethan costumes designed by Sarah James, costume designer for the Department of Drama.

"The Yellow Jacket" was the Masquers' major production of the year and the play presented on the annual state wide tour. "The world's most famous Chinese play," is staged so that the stage itself is a recreation of a Chinese theater. No realistic scenery is used. Instead the lavish oriental properties on stage are handled throughout the performance by property men who are part of the cast. In the tradition of the Chinese theater, "The Yellow Jacket" tells the story of the life of a young man from birth through youth to adulthood, following his experiences in love and ending with his recognition of a meaning to his life.

The Silver Cord

Susan Howard, a senior drama major, directed THE SILVER CORD, with the able assistance of Dick Willis, Designer and Technical Director. The production deals with the question—How strong are the affections between widowed Mrs. Phelps and her grown sons. Mrs. Phelps plans David's life, which will keep him tied to her apron strings, and persuades her younger son Robert to break off his engagement to Hester. Christmas, David's wife brings tragedy to a head by offering David the choice of her or his mother. Ultimately Mrs. Phelps is left with only her younger son for consolation.

The Kissin' River is an original musical play by Robert McKim, MSU senior. The play is a musical farce about a western dude ranch. The owner is Ma Yellowstone and her two daughters who become romantically entangled with a couple of dudes and a government engineer. The plot, involving a government order to change the dude ranch from a primitive area to a wilderness area, provides a great deal of fun and anxiety before an earth shaking event brings about a happy resolution.

Down in the Valley

"Down in the Valley" is a folk opera, and parts of the score are based on familiar American folk songs, including the title song, "The Lonesome Dove," "The Little Black Train" and "Sourwood Mountain." "Down in the Valley" required the additional help of a chorus, the MSU Royalties and the MSU Chamber Band.

ART

Art displays and sales were set up in the Lodge, Library lobby, and the Fine Arts Lobby by the painters and sculptors of the Art Department. The Art Department also brought many traveling art shows and displays to campus again this year.

UNIVERSITY MUSEUM

A unique section of the University which seldom receives a word of mention is the University Museum. Its fine collection is on display in the fine Arts building and is open to the public. The museum has collected items from around the world which are donated by faculty members, friends and other interested people.

"An Evening of Ballet"

In seven years the ballet department under the direction of Marie Cooper has to its credit fifty ballets, ranging from the classic traditional to modern ballet, opera, musical comedy and the creative modern dance. Ballet Theatre not being solely a device for public performance, but equally an educational department, has trained students from basic to advance technique. The addition of the Children's Ballet Theatre widened the scope educationally, giving University students an opportunity to work with, instruct, and create in this medium, infused with a remarkable "esprit de corps" due in part to the high standards of performance. Ballet Theatre grew from modest beginnings to a company of state wide acclaim.

CENTRAL BOARD

Central Board, the governing body of the Associated Students of Missouri State University, represents and coordinates activities of the campus. It is composed of elected representatives from each class, AMMHS officers and faculty representatives. Their main objective this year is improving the structure of the committee system to make it as efficient as possible. They are also concerned with providing as good a program as possible for the students, including lecture and film series and art exhibits. The ability or inability to get big name entertainment on campus is an ever-present problem.

The governing body is a training ground for democracy, giving the students a chance to learn the value of legislative body in life. It prepares the students for political activity in later life.

President Paul Ulrich was always willing to discuss the functions of Central Board with interested students. His main object was to keep and build student interest of student money. Paul hails from Butte and is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity. He was one of two Montanans who were semi-finalists for Rhodes Scholar.

KAIMIN

For members of the Kaimin staff, life was one constant deadline. The staff was busy continuously fulfilling assignments, proofreading, composing, and rewriting articles to appear in next day's edition. Published daily, Tuesday through Friday, the paper covered campus events as well as state and national news.

Zena Beth McGlashan worked hard as business manager to please the advertisers and others with whom she was in contact.

Olivia Eubank

Editor Olivia Eubank went into the field for the first time, making the starting of the Sentinel staff. Under her guidance, the staff worked hard to meet deadlines and come up with something new for layout.

SENTINEL

On a rainy Wednesday morning, staff members discussed business with William Fleming at the Taylor Publishing Company.

Larry Juelfs, Sentinel Business manager, handled contracts and kept the budget within its limits during the year. He also initiated many new programs such as distributing old yearbooks and beginning a student file system.

Larry Juelfs

By contracting with an outside publisher, a larger and more artistic Sentinel was possible this year. Three more editors, more full-colored photos and last color were included in the expansion which was brought about with a substantial saving. It was also encouraging to note that many of this year's staff will be returning to work on the 1962 Sentinel.

Working intently late one afternoon, the staff was started by a photographer.

Sherry Blazek

As things in Quality Student Government and America, Sherry Blazek, American editor, took over from the former committee and photographer, with the assistance of Betty Long, Bev Hughes, and Pat Serafine.

Jim Weber

Jim Weber, assistant editor, sponsored Living, Growth, Pop Arts and Activities sections. He was only assisted by Bill Long during winter and spring quarters. Jim was chosen editor at the 1962 election.

Judy Rodgers

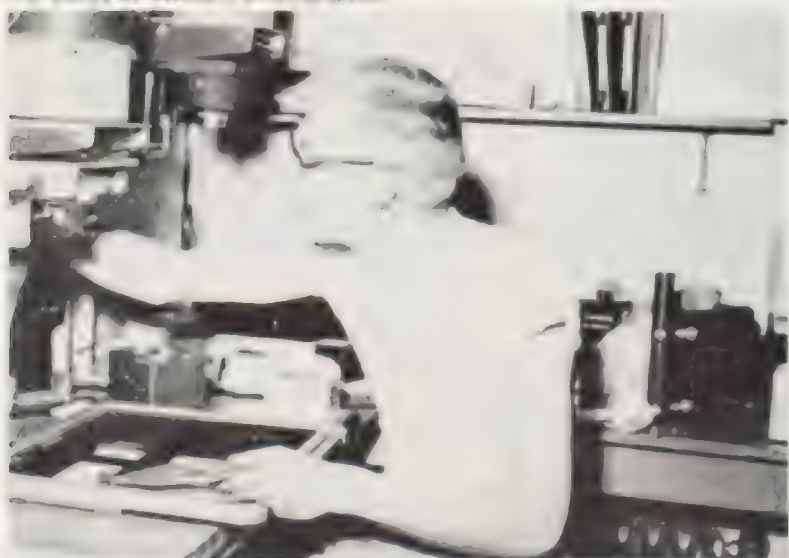

Taking over the position of assistant editor in charge of class letters and announcements, Judy Rodgers filled the vacancy left by the Greenfield.

Corlie Van Duser

Emergency Editor, Wilma McGill, and her assistant, Dale Graft, spent a busy year taking photos and printing them in the specifications of the committee. Miss Van Duser spent winter for editorial issues that did not show up for their sections. Wilma took over when Miss Paulsen resigned as photographer at the first of the year. Then Dale took over during spring quarter when Wilma resigned to concentrate on studies. Liane Bonner assumed the duties of assistant photographer.

Cycle was busy, as well as the staff, and always ready with advice and encouragement, in addition to heading the American News Service. Cycle is also the official security photographer and article writer. He is training several photographers and helping out when assignments are given.

Many other contributions were made to the University and University groups, during the past year. The 1961 Sentinel Staff has realized that, regardless of student budgetary allocations, the financial security of the book could not have existed on student support alone. This is a page of the merchants and professional men who have contributed to the yearbook and, therefore, to every University student. By supporting the yearbook, these firms have shown an interest in Montana State University and its student body which has earned our gratitude and a hearty "thank you."

Jim Polk was editor of Venture this year after working on the staff for the three previous years.

Christine "Tina" Belfinger also served as business manager and saw to it that the books were balanced.

VENTURE STAFF

VENTURE

Venture, which is printed twice each quarter, is a literary magazine which offers campus writers a chance to view their work in print. This year it sponsored a contest for the best short story, essay and poem written by an MSU student. Faculty contributions caused some controversy on campus. John Schwartz was the faculty advisor.

AWS

The Associated Women Students, governed by a board of delegates from all women's living groups, formulates and enforces rules concerning social standards, campus attire and hours for women. They sponsor the Big Time winter program, Snow Weekend, mixers, the Miss M&U contest, a Christmas Benefit for Muskegon children and the Lantern Parade, among other events.

Donna Arnet Mott
President Donna Mott recently presided over the business of AWS at the meeting of planning for her December wedding, and setting up housekeeping. Even through the most disrupting problems, she was able to joke.

Linda Erickson
Vice President Linda Erickson, in her usual good humor, saw that the proper amount of jokes were kept from destroying serious.

Penny Lucas
Secretary Penny Lucas acted as the official scribe at campus, took minutes of the meetings and efficiently took care of the other duties due to her many other campus activities.

Carol Tower

Treasurer Carol Tower resigned from her duties of making requisitions and overseeing the budget during fall quarter.

Martha Carter

Martha Carter, having just a close election for treasurer, was appointed to fill the vacancy left by Carol Tower. Martha maintained a close check on the budget and acted as chairman of elections during winter quarter.

FOOTBALL

The 1960 Grizzly football season was the most successful since the school became a member of the Sky-Line Conference in 1950. With only eighteen playing members, Coach Ray Jenkins had to draw heavily from the upperclassmen. They didn't get paid, worked hard on the job and winning, sharing equally in the success. Montana State University won partly the encouragement and Grizzly football spirit, raising the biggest interest of the student body.

GRIZZLY HONORS:

Seniors John Gregor and John Matte were elected co-captains for the 1961 season.

Quarterback Bob O'Billovich led the nation in pass defense, intercepting seven passes for a total of 68 yards.

Grizzly tackle Ed Henson jumps for the Vandal ball carrier during the 1940 Homecoming Game.

SENIORS

After having an illustrious year as the Grizzlies' toughest guard, senior John Matte has moved into the back line captain's position during the 1940 grid iron season. John was elected most valuable of the 1940 Grizzlies.

John Gregor, the mainstay at tackle, was coach Ray Jenkins' powerhouse in a perennially weak position. The pros expressed a definite interest in big John, who was also a co-captain of the 1940 Grizzlies.

Dale Berry, end, snagged enough passes to place him first among Grizzly back receivers for the 1940 season.

Junior Paul Gustafson dumps the Vandal ball carrier during the Homecoming Game. The Grizzlies won over Idaho, 18-14.

Senior running back, Ron Werba, gains yards against the Vandals in the 1960 Homecoming Game.

SENIORS

Starting center, Jim Johnson, finished his career with the Grizzlies by intercepting a pass in the end zone against Utah to rack up the only Grizzly score in the game.

End Homer Schwardt snugged four passes for a total of 101 yards to end his Grizzly playing days.

COACHES

Grizzly gridiron coach Ray Jenkins enjoyed his finest season since joining the staff at MSU. Jenkins started out with a young ball club and his sophomores did not disappoint him. The line, a problem spot with the Grizzlies, was balanced with a powerful running backfield. Known as a good recruiter, Coach Jenkins can be counted on to keep the Grizzly football team supplied with tough and determined talent.

Coach Ray Jenkins

Coach Hal Sherbeck

Hal Sherbeck, freshman football coach, finished his career with the Montana State University Grizzlies by turning over to Coach Jenkins twenty-five numeral winners. Sherbeck has accepted the position of head football coach at Fullerton Junior College, Fullerton, California. His influence in training Cubs has been felt by the ever-strengthening of Grizzly grid power.

HONORS

The Distinguished Award went to Grizzly guard Bob O'Billovich.

Coach Hal Sherbeck was pleased with the work done by his freshman squad. Three out-of-staters supplemented the Mounties and enabled Sherbeck to build two strong teams. The two squads played against each other in pre-game games when the Grizzly varsity was at home. Keith Law and Hal Peterson, both from Kankakee, Illinois, led the Cubs in scoring.

It's all through the air with the greatest of ease and is one of the games of the Grizzlies' next Utah State.

COACHES

Forest B. Cox came to MSU six years ago. In the ensuing years, he has devoted himself to building a stronger Skyline cage team. Known for his drive, he has instilled determination in those who worked with him. "Trouty" has also done a top-notch job of recruiting.

Hal Medbeck, former Montana athletic great, finished his career as trout cage coach in order to accept the position of football coach at Fullerton Junior College. Before leaving, he turned over several prospects nicknamed "Trouty" Cox to him.

Nasty Runkhart's affable manner has made him one of the most popular men in the athletic department. His ability as a trainer is well known and he has anchored himself to MSU since he has 26 years here as a basketballing man.

 Second row: Harold (Bud) Swanson, Joe Swanson, Herb Munn, John Allison, Bob Dick

SWIMMING TEAM

Although the swimming team lacked the depth to compete adequately in the conference, it did very well in dual meets, winning 40 and losing 6 in the last four years. The team also moved from seventh to third in the conference dual meets. Denver came out on top in the conference with Montana placing fourth.

Harold Sherbeck and George Dahlberg

Clayton Hal Sherbeck completed his career at Montana State University this year, having assumed the position of head football coach at Fullerton Junior College in Fullerton, California.

When attending MSU as a student, Sherbeck was an outstanding player in football, basketball and baseball. Upon graduation he began his coaching career at Montana County High School where he turned out four championship teams in four years.

In 1955 Sherbeck joined the MSU coaching staff where he has coached varsity basketball and freshman football and basketball.

COACHES

After 24 years at MSU, George Dahlberg, better known as "Biggie," has resigned his position as Director of Athletics. He will now serve as an instructor in the Physical Education Department.

Dahlberg joined the staff of Montana State University in 1907 as head basketball coach. In 1952 he became the Director of Athletics.

A very friendly and amiable gentleman, all colleagues agree, Dahlberg has continued to be a first working armory of the University.

Angel flight, sponsored by the Air Force ROTC, is a precision drill team composed primarily of freshman and sophomore women, all of whom meet certain requirements in appearance, poise, personality, usefulness, and scholarship. The squads are under the direction of Cadet Wing Commander, Roderick D. Brewer, and the Commandant of Cadets.

Angel Flight, led by Coed Colonel Mary Garrison, assisted with Community Chest and Red Cross Drives, performed at a Rotary Club meeting, at the Military Ball, participated in the usual Monday afternoon reviews performed during the basketball season traveling to Butte, Kaysville, Helena, and at half-time during the MSU-University of Utah game. The group went to the Lilac Festival in Spokane on May 20, and performed at Fort Missoula on Armed Forces Day, May 21.

AIR FORCE CHORUS

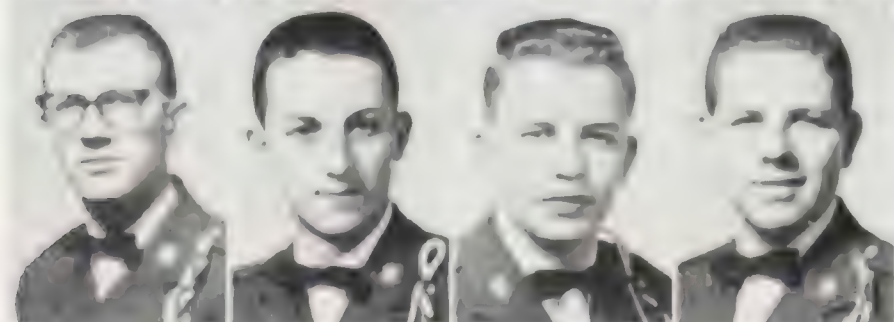

The Air Force ROTC Chorus was very active during the school year performing in towns of the western part of the state and for business activities on the campus and in the city of Missoula. Entertaining at clubs, (such as Rotary), performing for churches, radio luncheons, and being on television programs were part of the chorus activities for the year. On Occasion the Men's Chorus has been joined by members from the Angel Flight to perform numbers from popular musicals. These programs have been well received throughout the area. At other times the Cadet Chorus has combined with the MSU Men's Glee Club for such programs as the annual Christmas Concert. The Chorus is directed by Mr. Joseph Mussulman of the MSU music department, Captain LaVere Wareing is the Air Force ROTC adviser.

Newman Center

One of the most active groups on campus is the Newman Club comprised of all Roman Catholic students. It sponsored the Mardi Gras, spring singfest competition among living groups, provided Sunday Mass in the Music School Auditorium, and shared religious instruction. The Bishop of Helena purchased the low house from the University for the Newman Club, and renamed it the Newman Center for all Roman Catholic students on campus. It was occupied by twenty-three male members of the Newman Club during spring quarter.

Judy McElroy and Louie Corio sing at the Mardi Gras dance.

Students registered for membership with the Young Republicans during the pre-election days fall quarter.

The Young Republicans undertook the immense task of aiding the 1960 Republican candidates. During fall quarter members helped with voting, conducted opinion polls, contacted various persons desiring to work for the Republican campaign and held rallies and parades. In addition to campaigning the Young Republicans were quite interested in studying the general political organization of the state and nation.

An exciting night of

The Phi Delta pose for their

Phi Sigma Kappa

Mu Delta-Theta Chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa has members represented in all departments at Montana State University.

Phi Sig has three main social functions during the school year. Fall quarter is the Carnation Ball when they crown the Phi Sig Moxie Girl. Winter quarter features the Cuffe Day's dance. The Phi Sig weekend is the highlight of spring quarter, along with a Barn Dance, Hawaiian Party and numerous coffee hours, exchange dinners and informal get-togethers in the newly decorated basement with the national rock bar.

Sigma Chi

In 1904 a local fraternity was founded at MSU. Helped by Professor Schenck, a Jolly "want restaurant" and became known as Delta Delta of Sigma Chi. Prior to moving into the present home at 1110 Gerald, Sigma Chi lived in what are now the Sigma Phi house and Theta Chi house in that order.

The year started with a bang with the annual Derby Day, a form of track and field events for new sorority pledges. The Halloween Party and the French Party were the major events of fall quarter. On the last Sunday of Autumn quarter Sigma Chi held its annual Christmas Kiddie Party for over a hundred underprivileged children. The year was highlighted when the Jolly Sigs sang the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi song to Miss Susie Frizelle at the annual Sweetheart Ball.

The Sigma Nu Chapter at Sigma Nu is the oldest national fraternity to join the campus of Montana State University. Since it was founded in 1908, numerous standards have been added to expand the activity and association of Sigma Nu.

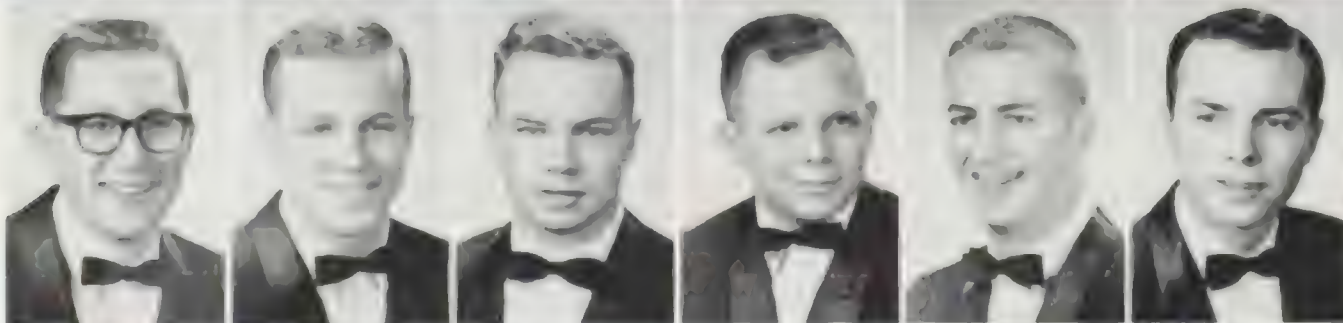

Socially, Sigma Nu is held in high regard for its Barn Dance of fall quarter, the Fudge Friction during the winter, and the formal Piggee Dinner of spring quarter. The social calendar is supplemented by numerous firesides, barbecues and the "White Star" luncheon. Along with many important occasions, such as the "Chicken Hot" the spring VMT trip down the Blackfoot river and swimming, skating and Michigan parties.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Sigma Phi Epsilon, the "fraternity with a heart," was established on the campus from Kentucky Campus in 1918. It is the third oldest fraternity on the campus and has produced 500 members since its founding.

Having the only fraternal fraternity house on campus helped social life greatly. The brothers spent many weekend nights staying and visiting with their dates in the house. The main functions were the fall quarter Queen of Hearts Ball and the winter quarter Swamp Stomp. It was an active year at the house with the red door.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Montana Beta chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon was chartered on February 12, 1937. The SAE's men lived at 341 East, but they moved to 1120 Gerard, their present home, four years later.

Although proud of their reputation on campus as "the singing fraternity," the Sig Alpha did not confine themselves to singing society houses. They support all fraternities in scholarship, and were winners of the Greek intramural athletic trophy. The fall and winter of 1940-41 showed that the SAE's were picking up where they left off the previous school term. The Sig Alphas again led fraternity men in scholarship for fall quarter, and walked home with the first-place trophy in fraternity basketball, during the winter.

There's this all winter going to go!

Synadelphic provides an economical place for girls to live and also develops cooperation between the girls living and working together.

The girls maintain a grade average usually above all other living groups. They sponsor functions each quarter and participate in university activities.

This women's group began in 1942 in connection with the School of Religion. In 1947 it became a regular living group. Mrs. Calt has been house-mother since 1950.

Synadelphic

Elrod men are usually in the top rank scholastically, but life at Elrod is never dull. Wing parties, impromptu gatherings, and organized functions, including a dinner dance, help the men relax. Telephones are handy and forever busy.

Mrs. Berry served again as "our mother away from home" for the Elrod fellows.

OFFICERS COUNCIL
President is Carl Cain; secretary, Bill Davis; social chairman, Mark Vachon; and athletic chairman, Rudy Reinhold.

Elrod Hall

Turner Hall means home to the main body of Quincey non-affiliated MSJ women. These girls maintain a busy social life by many organized teas, dances, and functions such as the fall Ball Dance and winter formal.

The members of Turner Hall hold their share of various efforts and usually score high in various interschool sports.

At least once a year the Turner Hall girls find time to visit Barthle, the President's traditional career fair—usually just before the annual Business Ball.

Two Turner Hall girls escape to their room for a quiet evening of studying.

THANKS . . .

Well, the year has passed swiftly and now again it is time for the editor to say good-bye and to express her appreciation to all those who have contributed to the success of the book.

First, my thanks to all the staff members who spent an awful time and energy on weekends, evenings and vacations working on the various sections of the book . . .

To Sharon Blaszek and her assistants, Bev Hughes, Nancy Long, and Pat Serafine, for the Royalty, Athletics, and Student Government sections.

To Jim Weiler and his assistant, Bill Lucey, for the Organizations, Living Groups, and Fine Arts sections. Special thanks to Jim for finishing the Index.

To Judy Rodgers, Mary Ellen Dawley, and Sue Greenfield for the University-related section.

To Larry Juelfs for handling the finances.

It has been said that a yearbook is only as good as its pictures. Thus, a good deal of credit for the success of the 1961 Sentinel goes to our Sentinel photographers: Doug Paulson, Whitey McGill, Diane Boehler, and especially to Dale Graff. Our thanks also to the Haugen-McKay Co., Catlin's Studio, Lee Nye, the Stanley Color Lab, Cyrile VanDuser, the News Service, the Montana Kaimen and all the individuals who contributed pictures to the book.

Of course, the staff members of the 1961 Sentinel could not have completed their work in the short time allowed if it hadn't been for the help and support of the following people . . .

Troy F. Crowder, Assistant to the President, who served as consultant on bids and contracts.

Cyrile VanDuser, who was our adviser, staunch supporter and photographer when necessary.

William "Bill" Kenney, who served as the liaison man between the Sentinel and the Taylor Publishing Company through his many long-distance calls and personal visits.

Walter Hook, chairman of the Art Department, who generously gave of his time and advice in choosing colors for the cover.

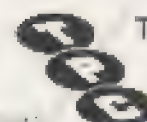

Marshall Holmberg, who did the art work for the cover and title page.

Doug Baldwin, who did the line drawings that appear in the Living Groups section.

Robert Catlin, who came so often to take the individual student pictures and who also took the picture of President Newburn that appears on page 50.

Again I say "Thanks" to all of you. The 1961 Sentinel could never have gone to press without your help.
